Handbell Highlites!

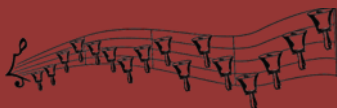

We had the privilege of attending Distinctly Bronze West 2012 in February. This is a conference sponsored by the Handbell Musicians of America (previously known as the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers). In order to attend, you must complete an application and have a director complete a reference form. We had attended this conference before under the direction of David Davidson. We loved working with David and were not sure how this would be without him.

David Weck, the director of the Agape Ringers in Chicago area and the handbell editor for Agape Publishing, was the director for the weekend. John Hooper had heard the Agape Ringers and said they were outstanding so we assumed then that David Weck must be outstanding as well. We were not disappointed! Imagine rehearsing 6 to 9 hours a day and at the end of the day, wanting to keep going. He will be directing at Distinctly Bronze East 2012. If you have a chance to go and work under the direction of David, we would encourage you to join us.

Our favourite position in a handbell choir is F5G5 - yes, both of us! When we attended DB before, we put this as our first choice and got it each time! Imagine the surprise when Susan got it and Camille didn't! Camille ended up in a four in hand position with B6C7 and the 8's. She had a supportive and patient stand partner who helped her figure out leger lines and when to add the upper octave and when to put it down.

David Weck has a wonderful way on the podium. His beat is extremely clear. He never loses patience. Rather than saying bar 22, he would say bar two two - this meant he had to repeat himself less! He always said please and thank you to us. That small bit of politeness goes a long way.

We challenge you on your next rehearsal to count how many times you say to your ringers please and thank you - perhaps not enough!

A Wonderful Way to Use Some Singing Bells

You likely can't imagine how easy it is to integrate the singing bell into any music! Imagine – all you need is some bells and wooden dowel or even a bass mallet! No tables or foam needed! You don't even really need to bell ringers!

Last fall while Jubiloso was in Fort McMurray, we shared our music in worship at the United Church. Our director Debbie Rice suggested that an easy way to accompany an hymn is with singing bells. We used singing bells – 4 different pitches at various octaves – to accompany the hymn “How Can We Keep From Singing?” It was really amazing how wonderful it sounded and how easy it was to do.

Most recently, musicians from First United Church in Fort Saskatchewan travelled up to St. Paul to share in worship at the United Church. We brought the bells and dowels with us and we did the same thing as we did in Fort McMurray – only this time, we had only one bell ringer singing the bell – everyone else was a singer, drummer or guitar player! We even recruited a member of the congregation to join us!

On Good Friday this year, at First United Church in Fort Saskatchewan, we used the singing bell again but this time to accompany “How Deep My Father's Love” by Townend.

You will need to experiment with what pitches to use – you might try an open fifth, maybe a major or minor chord with an addition second or fourth to give it a bit of an edge. You could try having the bells surrounding a soloist or even surrounding the congregation. Perhaps the bells could be at the back or the church while the singers are at the front. Be creative and enjoy “singing your bells”.
